

WHAT IS THIS

by Mark Taylor

Copyright © © 2004 by Mark Taylor
All Rights Reserved

SONG LYRICS

[VERSE 1]

I'm walking on the beach
Sipping on a cool drink when I see you.
So I sit down at your side
Ask you your name and I can't stop staring.
Now here it is seven hours later
And I'm wondering.
Here it is your scent upon my soul
And I'm asking
What is this
That's touching me.
What is this
That's changing me
From what I am
To what I used to be
That's opened my eyes
So that I can see.
What is this.
What is this.

[VERSE 2]

I'm driving in the car
Listening to the news and wishing
That I could take away the pain
Give them back their lives and I can't stop crying.
So here I am
Caring about the people and wondering.
And here I am
Determined to make a difference
And I'm asking
What is this
That's touching me.
What is this
That's changing me
From what I am
To what I used to be
That's opened my eyes
So that I can see.
What is this.
What is this.

[VERSE 3]

I'm sitting on the train
Heading home from work where I'll see you.
And as I open up the door

And you ask how was my day and I still can't stop staring.
Now here it is
Seven short year later and I'm still wondering.
And here it is
Your sweet scent upon my soul
And I'm still asking
What is this
That's touching me.
What is this
That's changing me
From what I am
To what I used to be
That's opened my eyes
So that I can see.
What is this
That's touching me.
What is this
That's changing me
From what I am
To what I used to be
That's opened my eyes
So that I can see.
What is this.
What is this.